

Services: Audio & System Design

"We don't need hand-holding. Once they make that first phone call to us we'll take care of the rest so they can focus on their event, knowing the audio is in good hands."

Audio & System Design

When designing sound solutions we look at details such as the size of the event, the format, the client's schedule, the layout of the facility, and any possible challenges that may arise. Because we invest so much into the planning stage right down to the last cable or extra microphone, we can ensure flawless sound quality during your event.

1. System Layout – With the proper tools provided by the client we are able to produce CAD drawings for the event showing where equipment will be placed.

2. Audio system design - Based on the individual event needs of the client, we create a custom audio system with up to date technology to maximize the impact of your event.

3. Scheduling personnel – Your event will be fully staffed by knowledgeable, professional people who understand the importance of your event. You can depend on the Goodman Audio sound crew to competently attend to every detail including the delivery, setup, operation, and strike.
